

Pick'em system

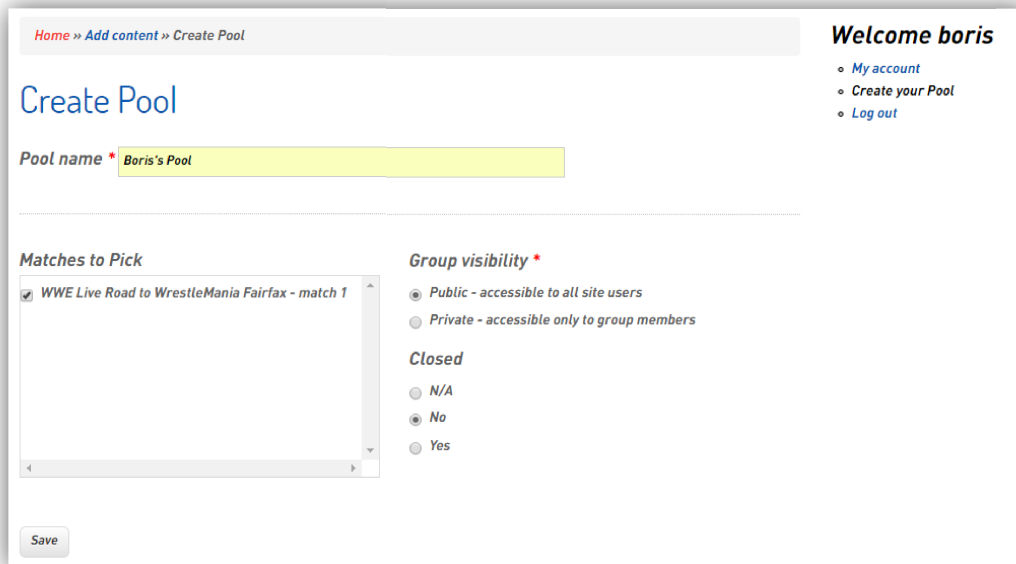

Firstly, I want to describe the whole concept of a Pickem system and how it works and what actions should be taken.

When someone creates a new Pool, the following matches will appear on its page. The Pool creator has a role as a group manager. He can Invite people by email address or Add a new member(s) to his Pool. To be clear here, he can add just already registered users on the system by entering their Names. For inviting people by email, system will create a new users for those. They'll get an email notification about registering and joining them to the group (pool) with confirmation link.

Next thing is to make a picks. When you're a member of a group (pool) you'll be able to place picks for each match. After clicking the Pick button, your picks will be stored and you'll get the Info that your picks have been saved. You can change them any time before the admin closes the picking for now (still remains to lock them according to Show start time). After the Show is done (not a match), Admin places winner picks, Saves them, and very final step is to Publish them. By Publishing picks, system starts with calculations of earning points. So it's crucial to be careful here and don't publish them before.

Step by step guide

1. Admin first creates a Show by adding matches to it and assigning teams to its mathes.
2. Users are creating their Pools and chooses matches to play.

The screenshot shows a web interface for creating a pool. At the top, a breadcrumb trail reads 'Home » Add content » Create Pool'. On the right, a 'Welcome boris' message is displayed with links for 'My account', 'Create your Pool', and 'Log out'. The main form is titled 'Create Pool'. It features a 'Pool name' field with the value 'Boris's Pool'. Below this, there are two sections: 'Matches to Pick' and 'Group visibility *'. The 'Matches to Pick' section contains a single match, 'WWE Live Road to WrestleMania Fairfax - match 1', which is selected with a checkmark. The 'Group visibility *' section has three radio button options: 'Public - accessible to all site users' (selected), 'Private - accessible only to group members', and 'Closed'. The 'Closed' section has three radio button options: 'N/A', 'No' (selected), and 'Yes'. A 'Save' button is located at the bottom left of the form.

On image above you can see that the user called boris is creating a new pool. He chooses, in this case the only one possible, matches for playing pickem on his pool. (Just to recall, Matches are created by Admin by creating a new show, where you can create/add everything you need – wrestlers, matches).

After saving the pool, it will be visible for everyone since it's public.

3. Placing picks are easy. Just choose your favorites and click on Save picks.

The screenshot shows the 'Boris's Pool' page. At the top, there's a breadcrumb 'Home » Boris's Pool' and a green notification box stating 'Pool Boris's Pool has been created.' Below this, the page title 'Boris's Pool' is displayed. A navigation bar includes 'View', 'Edit', 'Group', and 'Invite People'. The page content shows 'Posted on: 25 March 2018 By: boris', 'Group: You are the group manager', and 'Closed: No'. Under 'Matches to Play', there are five match entries: 'AJ Styles VS Charlotte Flair', 'Shinsuke Nakamura VS Bobby Roode', and 'Baron Corbin'. A 'Save Picks' button is at the bottom left. On the right sidebar, there's a 'Welcome boris' message with links for 'My account', 'Create your Pool', and 'Log out'. Below that is a 'PUBLIC POOLS' section with 'Boris's Pool' and the text 'You are the group manager'.

On image above you can see just one match. After saving your picks, as I said you can change them until they're closed.

4. Updating scores are on the Admin. After the show (not a match), he chooses winners and Saves Picks, after he is sure, Admin publishes the scores. On that moment, system calculates the points and a Leaderboard table will appear with players (members) and their points on right sidebar.

The screenshot shows the 'Boris's Pool' page after publishing picks. The breadcrumb is 'Home » Boris's Pool' and the green notification box states 'Picks already published.' The navigation bar now includes 'View', 'Edit', 'Group', 'Manage display', 'Invite People', and 'Devel'. The page content shows 'Posted on: 25 March 2018 By: boris', 'Group: Unsubscribe from group', and 'Closed: Yes'. Under 'Matches to Play', there are five match entries: 'AJ Styles VS Charlotte Flair', 'Shinsuke Nakamura VS Bobby Roode', and 'Baron Corbin'. A 'Save Picks' button is at the bottom left, and a 'Publish Picks' button is at the bottom right. On the right sidebar, there's a 'Welcome admin' message with links for 'My account', 'Create your Pool', and 'Log out'. Below that is a 'PUBLIC POOLS' section with 'Boris's Pool' and the text 'Unsubscribe from group'. At the bottom right, there's a link 'Activate V Go to Setting'. A 'LEADERBOARD' table is also present, showing the following data:

Name	Score
pera	0
